

NY CONAM Report

Pastor Doug reports he was elated to continue our CONAM's relationship with the Shinnecock on Long Island. This summer the camp sent 5 children: four girls and one boy, ages 9-11 to attend the camp. We also worked with a Shinnecock coordinator to assist families onsite with registration.

Doug received a letter from the camp saying they greatly appreciate CONAM supporting the opportunity for children to enjoy a week at camp in a Christian community. Bianca, from the camp, reported that all five children had a great experience and that next year, can anticipate around twelve campers. We will support them financially. I should say that Doug has been taking care of the children and isn't that the most important thing to do nowadays.

Patty Turtlewoman Richardson led the service this year for Native American Sunday.

Elaine Winward has kept in touch with Dan's relatives on the Onondaga Nation and support them by purchasing hand made masks for COVID protection of course.

Myrna Clinton keeps up her good work by collecting pennies (which add up!) to send to a tribe out west.
